Dear Residents,

Over the past three days, our community has faced significant power outages as a result of the storm, and I know how disruptive and stressful this has been for many families. Please know that since the outages began, I have been in direct contact with Atlantic City Electric, advocating for Stratford residents and pressing for restoration as quickly and safely as possible.

An executive from Atlantic City Electric contacted me again this morning, thanked our community for its patience, and advised that they expect power to be restored later today, barring any unforeseen complications. Crews remain on the ground working to complete repairs.

Once power is fully restored and the area is deemed safe, we will then need to allow Verizon and Xfinity to enter and restore cable and internet services where needed.

I understand how difficult it is to wait, especially for those with medical needs, young children, or elderly family members at home. Please know that we are continuing to monitor the situation closely here in Stratford and will share updates as soon as we receive them.

Thank you for your continued patience and for looking out for one another during this time.

Mayor Linda Hall
